

Willamette River Bridge Blog

Comment Policy

This blog provides an opportunity for sharing and discussing information about the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) construction project replacing the Willamette River Bridge in Eugene/Springfield, OR.

This is a moderated blog: ODOT staff will review all public comments before posting, in accordance with this ODOT blog use policy. If your comments don't meet this policy we won't post them. But we won't otherwise edit your comments.

Usually, we will post public comments only during regular business hours; we won't usually post public comments received after hours or on weekends until the next business day.

- We encourage your comments. We expect that participants will treat each other and ODOT employees with respect and civility.
- We require you to obey the copyright and intellectual property rights laws. By submitting a post to this blog, you warrant to ODOT that you own or otherwise control all the rights to that content, including without limitation the right to publish the content on this blog, or that the submitted content is a protected fair use.
- We won't post comments that aren't directly related to this specific project.
- We won't post comments that contain personal attacks or vulgar, abusive, offensive, threatening or harassing language. This includes creative spellings of swear words using asterisks or spaces between words.
- We won't post comments containing hate speech—generalizations or perpetuations of stereotypes of culture, race, religion, gender or sexual orientation.
- We won't post comments that promote or oppose any person campaigning for election to a political office or any ballot proposition.
- We won't post comments that promote or advertise a person or a business or commercial transaction.
- ODOT doesn't guarantee or warrant that any information contained in citizen posts on this blog is correct; ODOT disclaims any liability for any loss or damage resulting from any reliance on such information.
- ODOT doesn't endorse, support or otherwise promote any private or commercial entity, or the information, products and/or services contained on Web sites that may be reached through links on this blog.
- Communications made through the blog's e-mail and messaging system will in no way constitute a legal or official notice or comment to ODOT or any official or employee of ODOT for any purpose. For example, a public comment requesting public records will not be considered a public records request under Oregon Revised Statute 192.420.
- By submitting a post to this blog, you are granting ODOT a non-exclusive, royalty-free, perpetual and worldwide license to use the content, including without limitation the license rights to copy, distribute, transmit, publicly display, reproduce, edit, translate and reformat the content, and/or to include it in a collective work.

- This site is provided on an “as is” and “as available” basis. You use this site solely at your own risk.
- Opinions expressed in public comments on this blog do not necessarily reflect official positions of ODOT.

Please submit questions of a general nature to the Citizens' Representative Office online at <http://highway.odot.state.or.us/cf/comments/comments.cfm> or via e-mail at AskODOT@odot.state.or.us